Introducing AEA PD Online: Live!

Professional development doesn't always require being a formal experience. There are many informal opportunities to learn from other colleagues and sources of information.

Unfortunately, there wasn't one place to find those opportunities... until now! AEA PD Online: Live! brings together many online learning events for you to choose from.

What is Live! ?

As a system of event-based online learning, Live! is many different things. You will find any of the following on our calendar:

- Webinars
- Virtual Meetings or Conferences
- Live-streaming of Conferences or Workshops
- Ask the Expert Q & A
- Recordings of speakers and presenters
- And Much More

Are there costs?

All Live! events sponsored by AEA PD Online are absolutely free and are completely optional. We do partner with other groups, who occasionally will charge fees for non-members.

What are the Technology Requirements?

Since there are a variety of different events, each event can have its own technology that it uses. For the most part, here are the common technology uses:

- Events that require registration may be accessed straight from the web at <http://live.aeapdonline.org>
- Our live webinars use Adobe Connect Pro, which is a free web-based plugin. For the event, you will be given a link to click, and most browsers will be able to access the site. Your computer will need to have speakers or headphones, and if you will be speaking yourself, your computer will need a microphone.
- Our recorded events are kept in our Youtube channel at <http://www.youtube.com/user/aeapdonlinelive/>
- We use social media such as Twitter and Pinterest for Live! Drives and Live! Blitzes
